

Marsing Author Donates Books

Local bestselling author, (Rico) Richard Austin, gives back to the community where he grew up, Rico now lives in Scottsdale Arizona but grew up on Canal St, graduating from Marsing High in 1977. For the 50 year anniversary of the Marsing Disaster Auction, Richard donated two autographed copies of his bestselling book "My Bad Tequila". Having a book published in it-self is quite an accomplishment as only 1 in 400,000 who write a book ever get published but having your first book sell out at both Barnes and Noble and Amazon .com and make it on the bestselling list in Mexico, that is an accomplishment to support. Come out to the auction and get a chance to bid on either the hardcopy or the paperback, let' show Rico Marsing is proud of him.
