

“Scraps of our lives”

This local quilting club was formed in 1998 for the express purpose of making quilts for the disaster auction. Betty Peck, Ruth Clapier, Clara Randolph, and Maurine Johnson have donated a quilt every year since. This year’s quilt titled “Scraps of our lives” is made from scraps of materials from prior quilts. The ladies said a lot of work goes into making a quilt; they get together the week after the auction to start planning and designing the quilt for the next year. When asked how long they had been quilting personally, I learned that Betty was the only one who was an experienced quilter when they first got together, Ruth had quilted a little but was fairly inexperienced, and Clara and Maurine had never quilted before.
